☐ I will attend from a reasonably private location and will not record, reproduce or share sessions or materials without permission.

☐ I understand that confidentiality has limited exceptions where disclosure is required by law or necessary to respond to a serious and imminent safety concern, as permitted by applicable law.

For online audio/video coaching sessions. Complete separately for each participant before any recording starts.

1. What is recorded and why

Ji Le Zara proposes to record all online coaching sessions (audio and/or video) to support continuity, review of coaching discussions and secure record-keeping. The recording may capture your voice, image, statements and information you choose to share. Recording is not necessary for receiving medical or psychological treatment because no such treatment is provided.

2. Storage, access and retention

Recordings will be held in access-controlled storage, accessible only to Dr. Nilambari Dave and any specifically authorized service provider bound by appropriate confidentiality and data-protection obligations. Recordings will normally be deleted 90 days after the final session in the booked coaching engagement, unless a longer period is required by applicable law or needed for a lawful dispute, in which case the reason and applicable period will be documented. Backups may require a limited additional deletion cycle, to be disclosed in the Privacy Policy.

3. Sharing and other uses

Recordings will not be published, used as testimonials used in marketing or shared with third parties for unrelated purposes without separate, specific permission. Technical storage and conferencing providers may process data to deliver the service, as described in the Privacy Policy.

4. Your choice and withdrawal

Recording requires your separate, affirmative consent. You may decline recording or withdraw consent for future recording by contacting hello@jilezara.com. Recording will stop upon withdrawal. Withdrawal does not automatically erase processing already lawfully undertaken; requests for deletion will be handled under the Privacy Policy and applicable law. If recording is declined, an unrecorded session should be offered where feasible, or a fair cancellation/refund option explained before payment. No recording will begin without the consent of every participant.

5. Separate consent

☐ YES — I explicitly consent to audio and/or video recording of my coaching sessions for the purposes described above. *

☐ NO — I do not consent to recording. Please discuss an unrecorded alternative or applicable cancellation/refund options. *

Select ONE option only. For joint sessions, each participant must submit their own choice.

Website booking implementation

Use a required single-choice Yes/No recording-consent field, not a pre-ticked checkbox. Keep a dated consent log showing the policy version accepted. Use a separate required checkbox for Terms and Privacy. Do not start recording before all participants have agreed.

Publication note: Confirm the actual storage platform, access arrangements, business contact/address and applicable privacy-law procedures before using these forms. Obtain legal review for compliance with Indian law.
